INDY PARKS' SUMMER DAY CAMP SPACE STILL AVAILABLE

Sign up for fun all summer long!

INDIANAPOLIS – (June 7, 2010) Still making plans for the summer? Indy Parks and Recreation's summer day camps have spaces available for youth who are ready to have fun! The summer camp program offers a wide variety of opportunities including swimming, arts, nature, science and sports and recreation. All camps follow a high program standard and are accredited by the American Camp Association (ACA). Limited scholarships are offered based on financial need and the free Summer Lunch Program is available at selected sites. The 2010 Summer Day Camps Guide is available at www.indyparks.org. Get this summer's camp schedules and offerings, and fill your summer camp adventures with Indy Parks fun, professional day camp staff. To register, call 327-PARK or call the park directly.

2010 Summer Day Camps are still available at the following park locations, Broad Ripple, Christian, Douglass, Ellenberger, Krannert, Riverside and Southeastway. Indy Parks offers a broad variety of camps for all ages and interests including environmental education camps, creative arts camps, therapeutic recreation camps and traditional day camps with fun weekly themes. Find a park near you or a camp that suits your interests, and start having fun this summer with Indy Parks!

Bike Indy. Swim Indy. Run Indy.
PLAY INDY!
